DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-12 are allowed. Claims 3 and 8, which were withdrew due to an election/restriction requirement on 7/26/02, are rejoined because of the generic claim being made allowable.
2. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
The prior art teaches a semiconductor memory device comprising: a plurality of memory cells aligned in rows and columns, a plurality of sub word lines arranged in rows corresponding to each of the memory cells, a plurality of main word lines which correspond to a plurality of sub word lines, a plurality of shunting interconnection lines corresponding to the sub word lines and allowing signal transmission between the shunting lines and the corresponding sub word lines, a plurality of sub word drivers corresponding to the sub word lines and the respective shunting line. The prior art does not the above teachings in combination with the sub word lines being disposed in a first conductive layer, the shunting lines being disposed in a second conductive layer, and wherein the first conductive layer is above the second conductive layer. This combination has not been found obvious thus novel.
